PROPOSAL NUMBER THREE
Eliminating Ten-Day-Advance Voter Registration Requirement

Description of Proposal: Section 5 of Article 2 of the New York Constitution now requires that a citizen be registered to vote at least ten days before an election. The proposed amendment would delete that requirement. If this amendment is adopted, the Legislature will be authorized to enact laws permitting a citizen to register to vote less than ten days before the election.

Question as it Will Appear on Ballot:
The proposed amendment would delete the current requirement in Section 2, § 5 that a citizen be registered to vote at least ten days before an election and would allow the Legislature to enact laws permitting a citizen to register to vote less than ten days before the election. Shall the proposed amendment be approved?

PROS:
• More voters will be enfranchised by shortening or eliminating the deadline to register to vote.
• This proposal would allow the Legislature to implement same-day voter registration. Twenty states currently allow for same-day voter registration.
• Same-day registration can increase voter turnout and participation by ensuring all eligible voters can cast their ballot.
• On election day voter rolls can be updated and corrected allowing eligible voters who have moved, or been removed in error from the official rolls, to update their registration records.

CONS:
• Should same-day voter registration be implemented after passage of this amendment, election officials may have difficulty determining how many ballots are needed at each polling place.
• Implementing same-day voter registration has the potential to allow for in-person election fraud if a voter illegally registers at multiple sites and votes.

PROPOSAL NUMBER FOUR
Authorizing No-Excuse Absentee Ballot Voting

Description of Proposal: The purpose of this proposal is to eliminate the requirement that a voter provide a reason for voting by absentee ballot. The proposed amendment would do so by deleting the requirement currently in the Constitution that restricts absentee voting to people under one of two specific circumstances: (1) those who expect to be absent from the county of their residence, or from New York City for residents of that city, on Election Day, and (2) those who are unable to appear at their polling place because of illness or physical disability.

Question as it Will Appear on Ballot:
The proposed amendment would delete the current provision on absentee ballots allowing an absentee voter to vote absentee or by mail. The proposed amendment be approved?

PROS:
• Any voter would have the ability to request an absentee ballot for a primary and/or general election thereby increasing voter access to elections.
• Absentee voting was heavily utilized during the COVID-19 pandemic. Removing the cause for requesting an absentee ballot would ensure voters can request to vote by absentee ballot should another pandemic occur.
• Thirty-four states and Washington, D.C., do not require an excuse from those who wish to vote absentee or by mail.
• Has the potential to take pressure off poll sites by reducing the number of in-person voters.

CONS:
• The proposed amendment would provide less protection against potential absentee ballot voter fraud. The number of absentee ballots would increase, but the proposed amendment offers no suggestions for increasing protection against potential fraud.
• There is potential for loss of anonymity with more absentee voting.
• Additional reliance on absentee voting can slow election results and reporting.
• An increase in absentee voting can cost municipalities additional money for processing of ballots, envelopes, and for postage.
• The civic experience of voting with neighbors at a local school, church, or other polling place no longer exists.

PROPOSAL NUMBER FIVE
Increasing the Jurisdiction of the New York City Civil Court

Description of Proposal: The purpose of this proposal is to amend Article 6, Section 10 of the New York Constitution to increase the jurisdiction of the New York City Civil Court. The New York City Civil Court is currently limited to hearing and deciding claims for $25,000 or less. The proposed amendment would allow the New York City Civil Court to hear and decide claims for $50,000 or less.

Question as it Will Appear on Ballot:
The proposed amendment would increase the New York City Civil Court’s jurisdiction allowing it to hear and decide claims for up to $50,000 instead of the current jurisdictional limit of $25,000. Shall the proposed amendment be approved?

PROS:
• In 1983, the Constitution was amended to raise the jurisdictional limit of the New York City Civil Court from claims of $10,000 to $25,000, where it has remained. This was done to adjust for inflation, and to help lift a burden off of a backlogged New York State Supreme Court. This proposal will raise the jurisdictional limit of New York City Civil Court to $50,000.
• This proposal will reduce backlogs and delays by removing some of the burden placed on New York Supreme Court judges who hear civil cases with claims above $25,000.

CONS:
• The Civil Court of the City of New York consists of 3 Parts: General Civil, Housing, and Small Claims. General Civil cases include matters where parties are seeking monetary relief up to $25,000. The Housing Part hears landlord-tenant matters and cases involving maintenance of housing standards. The Small Claims Part hears cases where parties are seeking monetary relief up to $10,000. This proposal may place an additional burden on the New York City Civil Court by increasing the number of cases they may receive.

BALLOT PROPOSALS

This Voter Guide will help you evaluate the proposals that will be on the November 2021 ballot.

PROPOSAL NUMBER ONE

Amending the Apportionment and Redistricting Process

Description of Proposal:
The purpose of this proposal is to amend the apportionment of Article 3 of the New York Constitution that relate to the way district lines for congressional and state legislative are determined.

Proposal will do the following:
• Amend and repeal portions of the state constitutional amendment adopted by voters in 2014 that created a redistricting commission.
• Allow the redistricting commission to appoint two co-executive directors by simple majority vote, without consideration as to the party affiliation of the individual being appointed. Furthermore, this amendment would eliminate the alternative process currently in place that allows for the appointment of co-executive directors and co-deputy executive directors by the legislature that would redistrict the commission fail to appoint co-executive directors, and remove the requirement that the two co-executive directors of the redistricting commission be members of different political parties.
• Freeze the number of state senators at the current number of 63. Currently, under the state constitution, the number of senators was originally set at 50 and thereafter increased over time to 63.
• Require that state assembly and senate district lines be based on the total population of the state, and require the state council to count, including non-citizens and Native Americans if the federal census fail to include them.
• Provide for incarcerated people to be counted at their place of last residence, instead of at their place of incarceration, for the purpose of redistricting. This practice is already established by state statute for Senate and Assembly districts.

Question as it Will Appear on Ballot:
This proposed constitutional amendment would freeze the number of state senators at 63, amend the process for the counting of the state’s population, and establish a redistricting commission. This proposed changes to section four-b) introduce its own redistricting plans.

PROPOSAL NUMBER TWO

Right to Clean Air, Clean Water, and a Healthful Environment

Description of Proposal:
The purpose of this proposal is to protect public health and the environment by adding the right of each person to clean air and water and a healthful environment to the Bill of Rights in Article 1 of the New York Constitution.

Question as it Will Appear on Ballot:
The proposed amendment to Article 1 of the New York Constitution would establish the right of each person to clean air and water and a healthful environment. Shall the proposed amendment be approved?

PROS:
• This amendment will require state and local governments and businesses to consider the environment and its citizens’ relationship to it in all decision making.
• Advocates in favor of the amendment believe it will create a mechanism for combating environmental racism and rebalancing the inequities communities of color and poor communities face from disproportionate exposure to pollution and other environment-harming practices.
• Forty-three states have some form of expression of environmental values in their Constitutions; but only Montana and Pennsylvania have recognized protecting environmental rights as an unchallengeable right, putting environmental rights on par with other political and civil liberties. New York would be the third state to adopt this measure.

CONS:
• The amendment’s broad language could lead to complications, including frivolous lawsuits against companies with facilities sit ed under existing environmental rules.

Revise the procedure for drawing and approving Congressional and state legislative districts scheduled to be first applied in 2022. The proposed amendment would alter the redistricting procedure in the following ways:

• The proposed amendment simplifies constitutional voting rules and legislative voting procedures that are currently available to allow a political party to control the Senate and Assembly.
• The proposed amendment removes an exception for legislative election procedures.
• The proposed amendment moves the timeline for the commission to submit their draft mapping plans to the legislature. The current timeline will potentially prevent candidates from collecting petition signatures for election because district maps may not be signed into law in time.

CONS:
• The proposed amendment would unfairly empower the majority party by preventing the minority party from having input into the final proposed maps.
• The amendment repeals the special legislative voting rules in place in case one party controls both legislative houses, which require plans to be approved by at least two-thirds of the members of each house. Instead, a simple majority would be needed to approve the commission’s plan, or a 60% majority if the commission is unable to obtain seven votes to approve a redistricting plan at all.
• The amendment takes away the voting rights of minority party-appointed commission members in appointing the two co-executive directors of the commission.
• The proposed amendment significantly reduces the role of the commission in the entire process. Proposed subdivision (g-1) of section five-b provides that if the commission does not reach a decision by November 1, 2021, its draft plans will be submitted to the legislature that can then, according to proposed changes to section four-e, introduce its own redistricting plans.
